

Oregon Standard Deduction

Prior to 1971, the Oregon standard deduction was based on a combination of federal adjusted gross income (FAGI) and the number of exemptions. From 1971 to 1986, the standard deduction was the greater of $1,050 or 13% of FAGI, up to $1,500 for single, married filing jointly, and head of household. For married filing separately, the standard deduction was the greater of $525 or 13% of FAGI, up to $750. The table below gives the standard deduction by filing status from 1987-2009.

Tax Year	Oregon Standard Deduction			Additional deduction for age 65 or older, or blind
	Single	Joint	Separate	Head of Household	Single or HoH	Joint or Separate
1987-2001	$1,800	$3,000	$1,500	$2,640	$1,200	$1,000
2002	$1,640	$3,280	$1,640	$2,640	$1,200	$1,000
2003	$1,670	$3,345	$1,670	$2,695	$1,200	$1,000
2004	$1,770	$3,445	$1,720	$2,770	$1,200	$1,000
2005	$1,770	$3,545	$1,770	$2,855	$1,200	$1,000
2006	$1,840	$3,685	$1,840	$2,965	$1,200	$1,000
2007	$1,825	$3,650	$1,825	$2,940	$1,200	$1,000
2008	$1,865	$3,735	$1,865	$3,005	$1,200	$1,000
2009	$1,945	$3,895	$1,945	$3,135	$1,200	$1,000